“Research Assistant Leading to an MPhil Degree”

National Research Council (NRC) Investigator Driven Research Grants

PROJECT TITLE

Determination of the variation of soil carbon dynamics and soil physico-chemical properties in tropical rainforests (TRFs) and tropical montane forests (TMFs) in Sri Lanka across an altitudinal gradient

For the above Research Project, it expects to recruit a Research Assistant (RA) leading to enroll for a Master of Philosophy (MPhil) degree, with an immediate effect. A stipend will be paid for 24 months, as per the specified rates below. However, neither registration fee for the MPhil degree nor any other additional payments will be made. ### SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS

The work is largely laboratory-based but involves collection of soil samples from forest sites at six different locations of the country. Therefore, a self-motivated, hardworking and subject oriented graduate is expected.

Research Assistantship

The research area will cover soil carbon dynamics and analysis of soil physico-chemical properties. Therefore, a person with exposure to soil carbon fractionation and analysis of above properties will be given priority (preferably a male).

Research activities will be mainly conducted based on Uva Wellassa University.

STIPEND RATE APPLICABLE

No	Description	Amount per Month (Rs.) (Before registering to MPhil)	Amount per Month (Rs.) (After registering to MPhil)
